Mr. Clyde McClain, of this city, Wednesday night, slipped and fell, tlen, to-wit: causing his revolver to fall out of its holster and discharge, shooting him through the body. The proprietor of the boarding house hearing the shot rushed out front, found the young man and brought him in the house, where he died three hours later.

The people of Jackson were exceedingly nice to this young man and aided in every way poosible in trying to bring about his recovery. The electric light plant there generally shuts down at 11 o'clock, but when the management was phoned the lights were kept burning all night without extra charge.

Mr. McClain was in Jackson in the employ of A. Dietz & Co., who have the contract for the erection of the new Hotel Jefferson. He was a son of the late John McClain, and was a young man of industry and splendid habits and had a host of friends in this city who will mourn his loss. He is survived by his step-mother, Messrs. Write Ideas Moving Picture Plays

CAN WRITE PHOTO PLAYS AND EARN $25.00 OR MORE WEEKLY

We Will Show You How

If you have ideas-if you can THINK-we will show you the secrets of this fascinating new profession. Positively no experience or literary excellence necessary. No "flowery language" is wanted.

The demand for photoplays is practically unlimited. The big film manufacturers are "moving heaven and earth" in their attempts to get enough good plots to supply the ever increasing demand. They are offering $100 and more for single scenarios, or written ideas.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP. REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication,"

Perhaps we can do the same for you. If you can think of only one good idea every week, and will write it out as directed by us, and it sells for only $25, a low figure,

You Will Earn $100.00 Monthly for Spare Time Work.

Send your name and address at once for free copy of our illustrated book, "MOVING PICTURE PLAYWRITING."

Don't hesitate. Don't argue. Write NOW and learn just what this new profession may mean for you and your future.

Caldwell College Gets

Handsome Gift.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of Caldwell College an announcement was made through Dr. Robert Mackenzie, of New York City, Secretary of the College Board of the Presbyterian church, that a gift of $50,000 had been made to the institution by Dr. Nathanial W. Conkling of New York, in honor of Mrs. Florence Morgan, a life-long friend who was deeply interested in the education of young women. One of the stipulations is the name of the institution shall be changed to the Kentucky College for Women.

Recently announcement was made that a fund of $100,000 had been donated to the college and since that announcement $75,000 additional has been secured from different sources. A comprehensive plan for the improvement of the college in physical equipment and advanced educational standards has been adopted. The funds on hand will be utilized in the erection of new buildings to be begun

IDLE THOUGHT.

There are days for idle dreaming When the world is void and still And the morrows promise tenure Of the yielding, placid will; When the present holds no shadows And the past is vague and far: When the heart forgets its brusings And the wounds betray no scar.

There are idle days unnumbered When the vision is enthralled, When the hearing lists to voices That in former days have called And renewed in timely musings To repeat in phrase and tone What must come to waken power In the realm of dreams alone.

There are idle days and moments When an inspiration flares, n ambition's name to quicken Thoughts that haunt us unawares, And they pass beyond the yearning To fulfillment and the end; Had one idle moment faltered

EZRA'S HARD LUCK.

It Began With His Name and Ended on

Tom McNeal of Topeka was talking to Abe Peters about luck, so Tom reports. Tom thought there was no such thing as luck, but Abe protested.

"Take the case of Ezra Boil," said Abe. "To begin with, think of his name. A name like that is hard enough luck to prove my contention, but Ezra lived up to it. When he was a baby he fell into the horse trough and was almost drowned. Then he got hold of a can of concentrated lye and it took them four weeks to bring him round. He fell out of an apple tree when he was six and broke both arms and a leg, and just as he was hobbling round again he went on a watermelon stealing expedition with six other boys. The others got away but the dog caught Ezra and chewed him up until the farmer came along and he put on finishing touches with a harness' trace. He fell in love when he was seventeen, spent all he had for buggy rides and candy for the red cheeked object of his adoration-and she shook him and married another A mule kicked him and broke six ribs. He had a lot of hogs and they died of cholera on the identical day when hogs reached 9 cents a pound, live weight. He had a big crop of wheat and a hailstorm came along and rulned it one hour after his hall insurance policy had lapsed. He got $500 to make a payment on his land, put in the bank and the bank busted.

"A cyclone wrecked his house and barn and crippled all his family except his mother-in-law, who escaped unhurt. He bought four gold bricks and took some counterfelt money in pay for two good horses

"Then he died. When they were tak ing him to the cemetery the team pulling the hearse ran away going down hill and scattred the remains of Ezra along the side of the road.

"In the course of time his family marked his grave by an appropriate stone on which the stonecutter got the date of his birth wrong and misspelled his name in two places.

A LIVING TOWER.

Captain Meeker's Unique Idea In the Building Line.

What is known as the "living tow er," says a writer in the Wide World Magazine, stands on the very summit of a hill more than 200 feet high at Camp Meeker, a summer resort in So noma county, Cal. It was Captain Meeker, an old pioneer, who first con ceived the idea of building a tower on the very summit of a high hill near his hotel, and while looking around one day for a suitable site he found four young redwood trees standing about twelve feet apart, representing a per fect square. The trees were each about 150 feet high. Fifty feet of each top was lopped off, and the work of building six stories was then commenced From top to bottom the liv ing tower was a hundred feet high

Each floor is about 12 by 12 feet and rests on strong timbers, the ends of bolts. So strongly was every part braced that the whole structure not move as much as one would naturally suppose, even when rocked by heavy winds. In the building great care was taken by the workmen to cut only the branches growing on the inside of the square, and the trees were not chopped, mutilated or weakened any more than could be avoided.

Leading up from each story are broad stairways, so that one may ascend and descend with ease and perfect safety, while around the edge of each floor are strong railings to prevent accidents. Since this tower was completed the trees have grown and flourished just as well as before. This living tower is claimed to be the only one of its kind in the world.

Sweetland Resigns as Athletic Director.

At all drug stores.

Director of Athletics E. R. Sweetland, of Kentucky State University, handed to President H. S. Barker, of the university, his resignation from his position in the institution, to take effect now or in June, as the university authorities see fit.

When seen, Mr. Sweetland admitted that he had resigned, but refused to discuss the matter or his reasons for his resignation. It is understood, however, that his resignation is due to embarrassments and incompatibilities growing out of the recent trouble following the burning of the office of Prof. F. Paul Anderson, at the university, for which R. S. Webb. Jr., and Thomas H. Butler are now under indictment, and of the charges brought by Mr. Webb against Mr. Sweetland, on one of which he was dismissed in Justice Dodd's court and on two others of which are securely attached to the four which he was indicted by the grand jury at the same time. It is also understood that Mr. Sweetland wished to save the university any possible embarrassment which might grow out of these cases.

> Mr. Sweetland came to State University three years ago and has coached the teams with the exception of last year, when he was engaged in a similar capacity with Miami University, at Oxford, O. Under his guidance the University teams have been uniformly successful, and he has made himself very popular with the students and athletes of the university during his stay here. Before coming to Lexington, Mr. Sweetland coached athletic teams at Cornell, Syracuse, Colgate and Ohio State Universities.

Mr. Sweetland announced no plans for the future, and would not talk of his plans.

The resignation of Mr. Sweet land, handed to President Barker. is as follows:

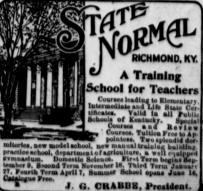

"Lexington, Ky., Jan. 15, 1913. President H. S. Barker, Kentucky State University.

"My Dear President-I hand you my resignation to take effect immediately or in June, as you may elect.

"Very respectfully,

BUSINESS DIPLOMACY.

What "Sorry, but That Is the Ruie," Cost One Bank.

"The making of rules for the carrying on of business is a good proposition, but tronclad rules sometimes injure as much as they help," a New York banker declared recently. "Here s an Illustration:

"One of the depositors in my concern had saved many years. His bank book, tattered and yellow, was full to the last lines with entries that extended practically since his wedding day. And when the time came that he must take out a new book he asked to save the old one.

"'Sorry,' the teller said, 'but it's rule of the company that when a new book is issued we must take up the old one.'

" 'But you don't understand,' the depositor argued. That old book is nothing to you. It is worth a whole lot to me. Many's the night my wife and I have sat up with that, looking over the entries, planning for the future when all the additions we had planned would be made in it. We've seen our little account grow from $10 to $100, from $100 to $1,000. His voice grew a bit busky. 'Why, that little book has been a sort of Bible to us. It has represented our every hope in life. We have planned by it, dream ed by it. May I not keep it?

"The clerk smiled sympathetically, but shook his head.

"'I cannot violate one of the ironclad rules of the establishment, he answered, and the man turned away.

"A month went by, and then one day a check for the man's entire balance came into the bank. He had transferred his account to another institution The matter came to my attention some way, and I heard the story of the torn and tattered bank book. That night, in the little bulletin which we send around our place, was a notice that was written by me:

"'Hereafter there shall not be an ironclad rule in this bank that is too strong or too heavy to resist breakage. Kindly consult the cashier on matters of diplomacy in the future."-New York World.

WOMEN OF FRANCE.

They Are the Bosses Even Though the Men Won't Admit It.

The women of France bave been decribed as the backbone of the French nation. The remark applies more to the middle class than to the aristocracy. The bourgeoise, truly a helpmeet to her husband, is in fact more often a manager and as a rule efficient in that capacity. It is she who carries on the tittle shop, while her husband, perhaps nominally the head, runs errands at her bidding. Not that the Frenchman would admit that: nevertheless it is the ruth. It may be, too, that be has business interests elsewhere as well. Thus ne may work for the railway or for some other enterprise.

In Paris one enters an attractive little picture or jewelry shop on the Rue de Rivolt. A smiling Frenchwoman comes forward to cajole the tourist into buying all sorts of fascinating things the door not want It is at the shops where are sold kodak supplies and postcards-not'a man to be seen except as a purchaser.

If one ferrets out a little hardware store and goes in to buy rope or nails or anything of that sort, there may be a man, the proprietor probably, to hunt for just what is desired, but even then his wife sits at the desk, guarding the noney drawer and keeping a close vatch over all that is happening.

Likewise at the butcher's madame its in state at the receipt of cash. The case is the same at the grocer's, where she gives out change and keeps the accounts. No mere hireling is to be trusted with such weighty matters.

All customers should stop to greet the mistress of the shop as they enter and must on no account forget their "Bon jour, madame!" on departing. These little courtesies are among the essen tials with the French, and if the foreigner forgets or neglects them he frequently fares badly .- London Spectator.

The Human Voice.

One's surprise at the fact that no two persons' voices are perfectly alike eases when one is informed by an au hority on the subject that, though there are only nine perfect tones in he human voice, there is the astounding number of 17,592,186,044,415 differ ent sounds. Of these fourteen direct muscles produce 16,383, and thirty indirect muscles produce 173.741.823, while all in co-operation produce the total given above.

Unconscious Sarcasm.

A Scotch visitor to the Carlyles, in Chevne row, was much struck with the soundproof room which the sage had contrived for himself in the attic. lighted from the top, and where no sight or sound from outside could pene trate. "My certes, this is fine!" cried the old friend, with unconscious sar casm. "Here ye may write and study all the rest of your life and no human being be one bit the wiser."

Not to Be Bitten.

Andrew Cherry, the actor, once re ceived an offer of an engagement from a theatrical manager who had not previously treated him very well. "I have been bitten by you once." he wrote. "and am resolved that you shall not make two bites of A. Cherry."-London

Editor Advocate, Mt. Sterling,

Kentucky:-

Dear Sir:-Would you kindly announce through the columns of your paper that I should like very much to enter into correspondence with some young lady of Mt. Sterling. I should regard it as a favor as I am real lonesome out here and am looking for a nice little Kentucky girl, preferably one of high school or college education. I am 23 years of age and since leaving college have been editing a newspaper. I am inclined to be partial to Southern girls.

While in college I was an athlete of ability, playing on the foot ball eleven and was a member of the track teams.

Having lived a sane life, I am perfect, physically, and possess a lovable and affectionate disposition. Please let me hear from were only five men in the little party some little Mt. Sterling girl real

THE LURE OF GOLD

Romance and Tragedy of the Old Bonanza Trail.

It Led to the Richest Deposits of Gold. In a Relatively Small Territory, Ever Discovered-Days of Strenuous Life and Frenzied Lawlessness.

The Bonanza trail began at Fort Laramle, Wyo. It ran east of the Owl Creek mountains, west of the Big Horn mountains, in a northwest direction to Livingston and Bozeman, then forking to the present Helena and Virginia City. In war and Indian department annals it is known as the Bozeman trail. Immediately, however, it was given the more romantic name, and for the best of reasons. It led to what were the richest deposits of gold, in a relatively small territory, that the world had ever seen.

Out of Alder gulch and Last Chance gulch, within 200 miles of each other in Montana. was taken, in ten short years, considerably more than $500. 000,000 in pure gold. It was anybody's fortune, and the wonderful luck of the California gold diggers a few years be fore roused men to brave every hard ship for these prizes. It did not matter at all that these gulches were 2.000 miles from the nearest railroad and that other gold fields were far easier to reach. Here was the great El Dorado, and without a quain the gold seekers burried into the unknown territory, defying Red Cloud and every other Indian, outlaw, renegade and holdup man.

How many lives were sacrificed along this trail to wealth will never be known. All that is certain is that there never was another chapter in the world's history like this. The long road into the mysterious country and the settlements of mining camps grew up almost in a single night. There when Bill Fairweather "washed" the first pan in Alder gulch and made a dis covery even more wonderful than an in the palmy days of California or even in the later era of the Klondike.

Two years later Alder gulch, at one of the Bonanza trail's two ends, was among the most picturesque places in the country. The world was ransacked I have rented the front room up for men and women to give perform tairs in the Jordan building and ances at the theaters, to offer free entertainment to the patrons of the vari ous resorts. The gold hunters, gorgeo of stamping work. Embroidery with prosperity, wanted amusements Fine restaurants were opened and food brought in at great expense from be yond the seas. The smallest money was a twenty-five cent pinch of gold dust, taken from a pouch. It bought less than a copper cent does in any part of the United States today.

Meantime an unending stream of people poured into the new country It is estimated by some that 90,000 in all took the trail at Fort Laramie.

The days of the trail were those of renzial to wlessness and many are picturesque stories that have come down. Over the big road disputes about cards were of daily occurrence The man who started an argument did so with the knowledge that it was his life or the other man's, for he was calling into question the "honor" of the Swindlers sold "mines." "shark." fought with their proposed victims and killed without compunction. Armed robbers ran off stock, stole horses from one class of immigrants and sold them to another. As the horse was the sole means of transpor tation and valuable beyond human life. "hoss stealing" was set down by the "districts" as a crime punishable by death. There were few courts, and such as there were were miles from the trail. A jury would hence be at once impaneled among those present. the man tried and if found guilty hang ed to a tree without ceremony

Hotels flourished and were prosperous beyond imagining, for every one spent money, and there was much flaunting. In the higher grade establishments beverages were served in cut glass; champagne was common. Every resort was crowded with people. The newcomers frequented these places in quest of information, paid 25 cents for a glass of beer made from barley grown by the ex-Confederate soldiers at Bozeman and sold to the Virginia breweries for 8 cents a pound, and not enough could be received to supply the demand. Table board cost $7 a day for the very cheapest, and if one slept in a chair in the hotel lobby at night. when the rooms were all rented, he paid $1.50 for the privilege.

Gold was the only medium of exchange. A pinch of it, between the forefinger and the thumb, as has been said, counted 25 cents. There would be a tendency with some men to take just a little bit more. When that tendency was noticed in a man he was given hours to leave town-and it was seldom over two hours. The wise man did not stand on ceremony or protesthe "vamoosed," in camp vernacular.

The newspapers of the city sold for 25 cents a copy, red hot from the press. and full of news of lynchings, new diggings, "clean ups," "hold ups," "bad men" and gossip of a breezy charac ter. Ham and eggs to order cost $2.50. Eggs were worth 50 cents apiece and an ordinary meal of deer or buffalo meat, with potatoes or coffee and bread. was never less than $1.50. A man was very poor to get down to fare so coarse as that. It made no difference what a man might have been back in "the states;" if he was "on the square" in Virginia he was accepted at par.-F. J. Arkins in Harper's Weekly.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

County Office . No Announcement will be inserted until paid for.

We are authorized to announce the following gentlemen as candidates before the State Primary, August 2, 1913, subject to the action of the Democratic party, to-wit:

> FOR COUNTY JUDGE WILLIAM O. CHENAULT, SR.

FOR COUNTY COURT CLERK

KELLER GREENE WM. A. SAMUELS

FOR SHERIFF

W. F. HORTON

HARRY F. HOWELL

FOR JAILER

JOHN F. RICHARDSON

O. M. WILLOUGHBY

FOR ASSESSOR W. B. GREENE

JAS. T. BARNES

MR. W. F. HORTON.

At the earnest solicitation of prominent Democrats from every precinct in the county, Mr. W. Frank Horton, of the Camargo neighborhood, has concluded to ask the party to which he has always belonged and for which he has zealously labored ever since he became of age, to honor him with its nomination for Sheriff.

Mr. Horton is at present Trustee of the Jury Fund, under appointment from Judge Allie W. Young. Several years ago he served the district, of which Montgomery county is a part, in the Legislature and in every position in which he has been placed he has proven himself to be an honest, courteous and efficient officer. To know him is to like him, and that he will make a strong race no one doubts. This is especially true today, since the people are realizing, as never before, that they do themselves a great injury by selecting inferior men for office. Because one is a clever man, or needs the office, is no reason for giving it to him.

As we have always advocated that competency should be given first consideration, it gives us pleasure to present his name to his fellow-Democrats.

As his deputies he has chosen Mess. Jas. W. White and Neal Guilfoile. Cleaner or more popular men could not be found anywhere and we urge a careful consideration of the claims of this excellent trio by the voters of Montgomery county.

MR. JOHN F. RICHARDSON.

With his sanction, we place at the head of this column the name of Mr. John F. Richardson as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Jailer of Montgomery county. He is widely known by our citizens, having served them as Deputy Sheriff and Assessor in the past, and we challenge any man to say he ever abused the official power given him by doing a dishonorable thing.

We have often said, and re-assert it as an indisputable fact, that the people have as good government as they deserve. The officers of a city or county reflect, in a large measure, the character of its citizership.

We are not moralists, neither do we pose as being "holier than thou," yet we do think we need energetic, soher, christian men in office. Such a man is John F. Richardson. Being kind hearted and generous, if elected Jailer he will treat the unfortunates entrusted to his keeping humanely; being gentlemanly and courageous, he will be courteous and of service to the courts, and being a man who appreciates the friendship and confidence of his fellow-citizens, he will make an official of which all may be justly proud.

MR. JAS. T. BARNES.

Mr. James T. Barnes, of the Howard's Mill neighborhood, belongs to a large family of Democrats who have always been content to serve in the trenches, without reward, or hope of reward. They now think, however, that their turn for recognition is at hand, hence Mr. Barnes authorizes us to present his name as a candidate far the office of Assessor.

He is well acquainted with values of real estate, is a good business man, honest and industrious and if elected Assessor promises to endeavor to discharge his duties in a manner that will meet the approval of all fair-minded citizens, at the same time do justice to the county and State.

In considering the man for whom you will vote in the Assessor's race, we ask that the claims of this worthy gentleman and loyal Democrat be not overlooked, in the State Primary August 2nd, next.

MR. HARRY F. HOWELL.

This is essentially a young man's age. On all sides, in every line of human endeavor, one sees young men forging to the front and taking first place in the affairs of life. We believe in young men; we admire their youthful vigor, energy and self-confidence ond rejoice in the fact that one is no longer required to outlive his usefulness before being placed in positions of honor and responsibility.

The subject of this sketch, Mr. Harry F. Howell, is a young man of excellent habits, of wide family connection and a gentleman whenever and wherever found. While a novice in politics, he has made it plain that he is in the race for the Democratic nomination for Sheriff in earnest and that he must be reckoned with on August 2nd, next,

As deputies, he has chosen Messrs. Wm. Cravens (present Assessor) and Robert M. Montjoy, of Howard's Mill, than whom there are no more deserving men in our county.

They promise, if elected, to continue the affairs of the office at its present high standard and authorize us to say they will be ever grateful for the support and influence of the Democrats of old Mont-

MR. O. M. WILLOUGHBY.

For several years Mr. O. M. Willoughby served the people of Mt. Sterling, with general approval, as a member of our police force and later as city warden or jailer. The duties of county jailer are therefore familiar to him in all their details, hence Mr. Willoughby has concluded to ask his party to honor him by making him its standard-bearer on August 2nd, next.

We believe a good index for the future performances of a man in office, is his past record, as an official, and so far as we are aware, Mr. Willoughby has nothing in his record about which he need be ashamed,

In this issue we have expressed, in a somewhat limited way, our views of the duties of this office and the character of man we think should fill it and have no hesitancy in saying that if Mr. Willoughby is honored by election, he will discharge his duties in a manner that will reflect credit upon himself and his county.

It is with pleasure we present his claims to the Democrats of Montgomery county and urge for them favorable consideration.

Strong-Monday's Prices At Least 3 Cents Higher

Nearly 700,000 Pounds Sold Here During the Past Week.

The tobacco market during the past week continued strong. The prices Friday were a little off owing to the tobacco being too wet. Monday the prices on all grades were at least three cents stronger and the farmers were well satisfied with the prices received. The Farmers' house handled about onehalf million pounds during the past week, while the Burley house handled close to 200,000 pounds. The streets and roads leading to Mt. Sterling have been literally lined with wagons during the past week and both houses have been selling capacity floors at every sale. The Farmers' house report the following sales Monday: E. R. National Banks Elect Officers.

At a meeting of the directors of the Traders National Bank, held last week, Maj. D. J. Burchett was elected President to succeed Mr. J M. Bigstaff, deceased. Major Burchett is a fine gentleman and a splendid business man and is bound to add strength to this already strong institution. Mr. A. S. Hart was elected a member of the Board of Directors in place of Mr. J. M. Bigstaff. deceased. The following gentlemen now compose the board of di rectors: Major D. J. Burchett, President; Messrs. J. T. Highland, Vice President; A. A. Hazelrigg, J. L. McCormick, W. Lois Thompson, L. L. Bridgeforth and A. S. Hart.

The Montgomery National Bank made no change in its directorate re-electing Mr. J. G. Winn, President; Messrs. R. C. Gatewood, C. K. Oldham, G. H. Strother and Pierce Winn Directors.

The Mt. Sterling National Bank re-elected their old officers with the exception of Mr. Steve Pieratt who was elected a director to succeed his late father Mr. J. M. Pieratt who died since the last meeting of the directors. The board is made up as follows: Mr. W. S. Lloyd, President; Mr. B. F. Cockrell, Vice President; Messrs. J. G. Trimble, C. D. PETTICOATS AND ICOATS AND LINGERIE BARRED TABLO OPERA HOUSE

They Are Soon to Be Discarded By Women of Fashion.

A bas underwear, petticoats, belts, stocks and dress linings.

Enter the union suit, the corset and draped hobble front as the sole apparel of the 1913 woman of fashion, Empress Josephine of 1813 come to life again.

This is a startling innovation coming after so many startlers, but Max Aron, secretary of the Dressmakers' Union of America, and otherwise high in authority on women's dress, declares it is said Aron. "Exclusive of shoes and stockings, she will wear a union suit, the lower part in the form of tights, a small corset of comparatively few bones, and she will wear a close-fitting, one-piece dress, with very slight or even no lining. Some women today are wearing only these three garments

Mr. Aron went calmly on: "I House believe that the underwear industry has fallen off 75 per cent. in the last three years. Lacy, ruffled lingerie is now a drug on the market. Underwear is dead.

"The change didn't come all at once. It began ten years ago. The flannel petticoat went first. The shirtwaist then struck the knell of dress lining. Then it was discovered that unlined skirts could be built. Seven years ago the one-piece dress suddenly came to the front. Then went belts and collars. When the hobble skirt came in three years ago the underskirt went out. Women soon stopped wearing three petticoats. then decided two was too many, and finally took to wearing tights. Everything is toward simplicity. Four dresses and a hat can now be bought for what one complete outfit once cost. Even the hats are untrimmed.

Another Killing in Winchester.

Didley Dee, a workman em ployed by George Bros., railroad contractors at Winchester, was shot to death Saturday night. Walter Williams is accused by officers of doing the shooting. A hunt for Williams is in progress. The ball penetrated Dee's heart and his death was instantaneous. He is said to have been under the influence of liquor and to have provoked the assault. Both Dee and Williams are nergoes. Dee Jackson a year or two ago, but was acquitted.

BROKLYN ABERNACLE BIBLE STUDY ON -THE MARK OF CAIN

Genesis 4:1-15-Jan. 26. Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer.'

HE first tragedy of Earth was disobedience to God-the eating of the forbidden fruit. The next generation saw murder resulting from jealousy. Since the Bible teaches that our first parents were perfect, the image of their Creator, the question arises. How could such noble parentage bring forth a son of Cain's evil disposition?

Cain was not degenerate in the present acceptance of that word. Undoubtedly he was a great man in many ways. But he was birth-marked, as all are, with selfishness. After his parents were expelled from Eden, after they began to toil with sweat of face, Cain was born. The period of his gestation was surely one of much mental distress to his mother. As she murmured respect-Sacrifices of Abel an ing the loss of Eden, she marked her child with discontent and selfishness. By the time Abel was born, doubtless our first parents had become reconciled to their fate. We are in this not justifying murder, but taking a sympathetic view of the murderer's case, as God did. He condemned the sinner, and arranged for his punishment; but none of His messages to the murderer indicated hatred. So parents, correcting their children, should allow no sentiment to control their hearts contrary to the best interests of their children. So the laws of men in dealing with crime should be as severe as seems necessary in the interests of society, but should never be vengeful. They should recognize that mankind were born in sin. The vengeance of the law should be sympathet-

With great satisfaction we note that our prisons are being turned into reformatories. Judges in pronouncing sentence, especially against murderers. are often fatherly and tender. The feeling that terrible responsibility is associated with the taking of human life, even judicially, is right. A certain weakness, however, manifests itself in opposition to capital punishment. This, we believe, results from misunderstanding the Divine Word.

In the case of Cain, God especially prohibited the execution of the crimi-Nevertheless, the Divine Law stands: "Whoso sheddeth man's blood, by man shall his blood be shed." The careful observance of this Law, with a spirit of kindness and sympathy, but with proper ignominy, seems necessary to the preservation of order. Weakness in this respect encourages criminality, and furnishes an excuse for mob law and violence.

General misapprehension of the Divine Plan has led up to the weakness his wrong view led us to believe that the murderer passed at death into endless torture, and we hesitated to plunge a fellow-creature into such misery Bible students are now learning that this delusion came from the Dark Ages. Our forefathers, imagining God to be worse than themselves, twisted Scripture to support their errors.

The Bible teaches that mankind fall asleep at death, to awake after Messiah establishes His Kingdom. The Bible statement is that all, good and bad, go to one great slumber-house, the tomb-Sheol, Hades. Messiah so loved the world that He gave His life for the redemption of mankind. As soon as He shall have selected His Church, He will establish His glorious Kingdom. open the prison doors, set at liberty the captives of death, and bring all to an accurate knowledge of the Truth.

"Sin Croucheth at the Door."

Cain was jealous because God manifested favor toward Abel's offering, while rejecting his own. Cain should have rejoiced with Abel, and brought a similar offering. God warned him that his spirit of er or later, the Divine penalty will be meted out. But the judgments of the Lord are left for the Great Mediator to execute during the Millennium, the world's Judgment Day. Only those begotten of the Holy Spirit are now on trial for life or death

Brother-Haters Are Murderers.

The Great Teacher declares that prother-haters are murderers in God's sight. In other words, a spirit of hatred is a spirit of murder. Alas, how many of the professed followers of Jesus harbor a spirit of hatred, and sometimes manifest it in anger and other works of the flesh and the devil!

Christians are to fight against the imperfections of the flesh. They must strive against the fallen nature, and cultivate the fruits and graces of the Holy Spirit. If they manifest the mure'er spirit, they will lose the "prize" f joint-heirship with Christ.

Baseball Business.

The American League has engaged Frank Chance, the baseball player, for three years at a magnificent sum of $120,000. Forty thousand dollars a year to direct a baseball team is going some, but the league that pays it doubtless knows what it is doing. When we consider that this is only a small part of the enormous expense of the League, it seems a wonder that it can pay it. but it knows that those who love the sport will foot the bill and it does not reckon in vain. Baseball has gotten to be one of the big businesses of the country and millions are spent by the fans that multiply even faster than the population. Those who love the game acknowledge its insidiousness and say the more they get the more they want of what is sport to them, but seribusiness to the managers and hard work for the players.

The True Cosmopolitans.

We are not an isolated nation We are more at one with the old countries than they are ever at one with each other. They are neighbors; we are their brothers. There is an upheaval somewhere in the world, and the citizens of France or Finland may become involved. Some of us always do. Few of the heroes of history are unhorored in our public places. In one city stands a monument to Kossuth, "Erected by the Hungarians resident in America"; in another a statue to Garibaldi, "Erected by the Italians resident in America." These wistful people come and come, bringing their lares and penates and setting up their national heroes in our public squares. War breaks out in the Balkans, and the little man who blacks our shoes is going out to fight to the finish for his country's honor. There is war five thousand miles away, and the woman who sells us oranges is kissing her husband good-bye for the last world beat in our city streets.

Accidents will happen, but the best-regulated families keep Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for such emergencies. It subdues the pain and heals the hurts.

DANGER FROM GRIPPE

Lies in That Cough and Weak, Worn-out Condition.

Grippe, pleurisy, pneumonia, these are greatly to be feared at this time of the year.

To prevent grippe from being followed by either pleurisy or pneumonia, it is important to drive the last traces of it out of the system quickly. Our advice is to take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron preparation without oil, and get your strength and vitality back quickly.

Mrs. A. A. Grabill, of Strasburg, Va. says: "Grippe left me weak, run down and with a severe cough, from which I suffered four years. I tried different remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I took Vinol, from which I received great benefit. My cough is almost entirely gone, and I am strong and well again, and I am glad to recommend Vinol to others who suffer as I did."

Try Vinol with the certainty that if it does not benefit you we will give back your money.

"The Servanc in the House."

Only a cast of exceptionally intime. So does the pulse of the tellectual players, trained in the hard school of experience, could do justice to the difficult roles in "The Servant in the House," the sensationally successful and epochmaking play which is to be presented at the Tabb Opera House on January 29th. There is not a 'straight" part in the play. Each character is strongly individualized and vividly drawn human beings, and only players capable of assum+ ing difficult roles can meet with any success in the play. It is a remarkable company which Merle H. Norton is sending to this city I have all my accounts made out for the presentation of this drama, and would appreciate it if you a company headed by Victor E. would call and settle if you are in- Lambert and which includes no less than three players who have been stars in their own right.
